WHEN A FRIDAY TURNED INTO 'CASUAL FRIDAY'

It wasn't magic. It was us: in the late 80's, Dockers® initiated Casual Friday by sending an eight-page Guide to Casual Business Wear manifesto to 25,000 HR managers across America, suggesting them and their employees to swap their suit for a chino, on Fridays as a first step. And it worked!

CONQUERING THE WHOLE WEEK: 'CASUAL EVERYDAY'

Nowadays, businesses have become increasingly aware of how comfort and self-expression improve people's confidence, performance and work/life balance. With time, suits have given way to less formal and traditional clothing that we know as 'casual' or 'business casual'.

But this freedom comes with some risks. Nobody wants to look less professional or underdressed at work. Also, having to decide between a wider spectrum of choices can be tricky in some situations.

No need to worry. Dockers® is here to help.

GETTING THE BEST OUT OF YOURSELF

Since 1986, Dockers® has been committed to your comfort and self-confidence. That's why we've created The New Casual Book: a comprehensive visual guide with pretty much everything you need to ride and enjoy the casual wave back and forth from work to your everyday life.

WITH GREAT FREEDOM COMES RESPONSIBILITY

Let's face it: dark suits are easy to figure out and don't need much guidance. If you're here you're probably not that suit guy. You're the hero who accepts the every morning challenge of choosing between different colors and matching comfortable styles. We know it's a tough job, but hey... somebody has to change the world.

OK, IT'S NOT ROCKET SCIENCE

We know; we do dress one leg at a time. But 75% of European workers admit they could use a hand to dress more casually. As we are fully committed to help men reach their best versions of themselves and we know quite a bit about awesome looking, comfy clothing, we kind of felt we should make this guide.

THE ONLY RULE IS YOU MAKE THE RULES

We just want to help. We are challengers by definition and don't want to follow rules, so why should you? Be confident with your decisions. Combine. Try. Change. And above all: enjoy the ride.

Types of CASUAL

Explore the styles and versatility of casual wear

RELAXED CASUAL

You have a long day ahead at the office. Stay comfortable for a work day without important meetings or appointments outside the office.

SMART CASUAL

Look neat without being over-dressed. Just be ready for those days when some unexpected meeting comes up and you need to be presentable.

BUSINESS CASUAL

It's time to make a statement. A business lunch, a big meeting or pitch could be situations when you would need to make your outfit more formal.

The JOB INTERVIEW

TO GET THAT JOB YOU DON'T NEED A SUIT

Facing a job interview is a big moment. You are determined to take this opportunity to do great things. You need to convey that you want to exceed expectations, changing the paths to get to new goals. Then you put yourself in front of the mirror and wonder: "what should I wear"? One thing is clear: To change the world you don't need a suit.

01 DO YOUR RESEARCH FIRST

How do they dress in this place?
Try to get an approximate idea before your first contact.

02 AN OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW YOUR UNIQUENESS

Think about what you want to convey:
professionalism and common sense.
Think about details to make them think you are one in a million.

03 TRY ON YOUR INTERVIEW OUTFIT

Stand in front of the mirror, make sure you can move and sit comfortably and try to do an interview rehearsal with your complete outfit on.

DRESSING LIKE THE MAN YOU WANT TO BE

SHOW OFF YOUR RISKY MIND FROM HEAD TO TOE

If you're looking for a creative job try to build your outfit with a pair of sneakers. Make a statement from the feet up and then complete the look in a colorful but elegant way.

THE SMALLER THE PLAID, THE GREATER YOUR SKILLS

Checked shirts with small plaids convey expertise and rectitude. Show them you are on the right line with a creased chino.

THEY WANT MULTITASKING, YOU GIVE THEM VERSATILITY

Roll your sleeves and leave the belt out. You feel comfortable adapting to different situations and your outfit walks the talk.

The JOB INTERVIEW

KEEP IT SIMPLE, BUT UP TO DATE

The kind of work you want to get requires someone formal but contemporary. Give them what they are looking for with a dark and modern outfit that never goes out of style.

ANOTHER LONG DAY AT THE OFFICE

OFFICE

HOURS

Most likely, the week may find you spending many hours doing office work. No meetings scheduled, no business lunches or outside events. Just you, your computer and, why not, some chillin' time next to the coffee machine. Keep it comfy but don't show up as if you just fell out of bed.

01

THE TRICK: ALWAYS STRETCH

Long hours sitting on your desk demand flexible fabrics that provide freedom of movement and better leg circulation.

02

KEEP YOUR T-SHIRTS SIMPLE

Move away from the heavy metal band t-shirts and opt for a classic crewneck cotton in plain colours.

03

TUCKING THE SHIRT: IN OR OUT?

You definitely will be comfier leaving it out, but there is an intermediate solution called the french tuck that lets you stay in a safe middle ground. Cool trick, right?

OFFICE HOURS

A DASH OF COLOR TO ANY GRAY DAY

Spark up your casual outfit with a touch of color and suddenly your office becomes a happier place.

4-WAY STRETCH JOGGERS FOR THE NEVER-ENDING OFFICE DAYS

Some days you just need to be the long distance runner. Jogger pants are so flexible, you might even want to go to sleep with them on. But don't, please, maintain a healthy schedule.

FROM DESK TILL PLAYGROUND

The day doesn't end when you get out of the office. A kid in the park can be as challenging. Roll your sleeves when you need it and enjoy the Smart 360 Flex comfort and brilliant flexibility.

HAVE FUN
WORKING

WORK TO HAVE FUN

You can't work hard if you don't have fun. Keep it comfortable in your day to day outfit and move away from stiffness during the week.

You better work hard for the toughest boss: unbutton your checked shirt to make the slide deadline.

The CLIENT MEETING and presentations

01 BE THE DARK KNIGHT WITH THE ROLLED SLEEVES

Start the meeting conveying self confidence in your dark shirt, and gradually relaxing the atmosphere by rolling up your sleeves.

02 CROP YOUR PANTS, NOT YOUR CONFIDENCE

Here's the trick: keep the look modern with its cropped leg opening and refined with its sharp center pleat.

03 BLACK BELT IN SOBRIETY

Any business fight can be won with the right move: your tucked-in shirt and a matching dark belt.

04 KEEP THE TONE AS DOWN AS YOUR FEET

We are looking for contrast, but not too much. Try combining your navy blue pants with dark brown shoes. Black is even a safer bet.

BE PROFESSIONAL BUT REMAIN CLOSE

Yes, you can be professional and remain close at the same time when it comes to face a client meeting or a presentation. Dark tones help to give you a sober appearance while a stretch fit shows you're a modern guy with an open mind.

THE BLAZER, YOUR MAGIC CLOAK

Call it trick or call it magic: put a blazer on and your look becomes more formal. Let the cuffs of your shirt stick out of the blazer sleeves.

TIE THE KNOT WITH CREATIVITY

Choose a tie to add a dash of boldness and get a pair of dressy oxford shoes in black or brown.

LITTLE THINGS MAKE IT BIGGER

As the saying goes, God is in the details. Make a huge difference with some small hacks.

SMART OR BUSINESS: STYLING YOUR PITCH

Decide between business or smart casual depending on the nature of your client or the company. How formal would you need to look?

The CLIENT MEETING

BUTTON UP TO SMARTEN UP

Go for a plain colored or a simple patterned shirt and leave it hanging out for a more relaxed, easy-going look.

CONSERVATIVE ON YOUR BOTTOM HALF

Play it safe with foolproof colors like navy, grey or camel for your creased pants.

The BUSINESS TRIP

PACK IN A SMART WAY

A successful business trip begins with a well packed suitcase.

01 CHECKLIST? CHECK

Check your schedule and make a list of everything you need to bring. Cross things off when they're packed and you won't need to cross your fingers for luck.

02 PLAN AHEAD, NOT "JUST IN CASE"

Lay out an outfit for each day and you'll save time deciding what to wear once you get to your destination.

03 VERSATILITY IS YOUR PASSPORT

Don't risk it all to one card. Play it safe and bring a wardrobe that lets you play with both decks: formal and relaxed. Mix shirts, polos and tees accordingly.

04 LEAVE WRINKLES BEHIND

Some fabrics are a better travel companion: silk, wool, fleece, cotton blends and microfibers not only keep their shape but are also very comfortable.

A HERO'S JOURNEY IN THREE ACTS

Arrive, conquer and celebrate. A seamless journey from your flight to the meeting and then some time for relaxation is the usual pattern you'll need to have in mind... and dress for.

THE FLIGHT

ARRIVE FRESH AND FOCUSED

Create more leg room

Use smart fabrics that let you flex with ease, providing better circulation.

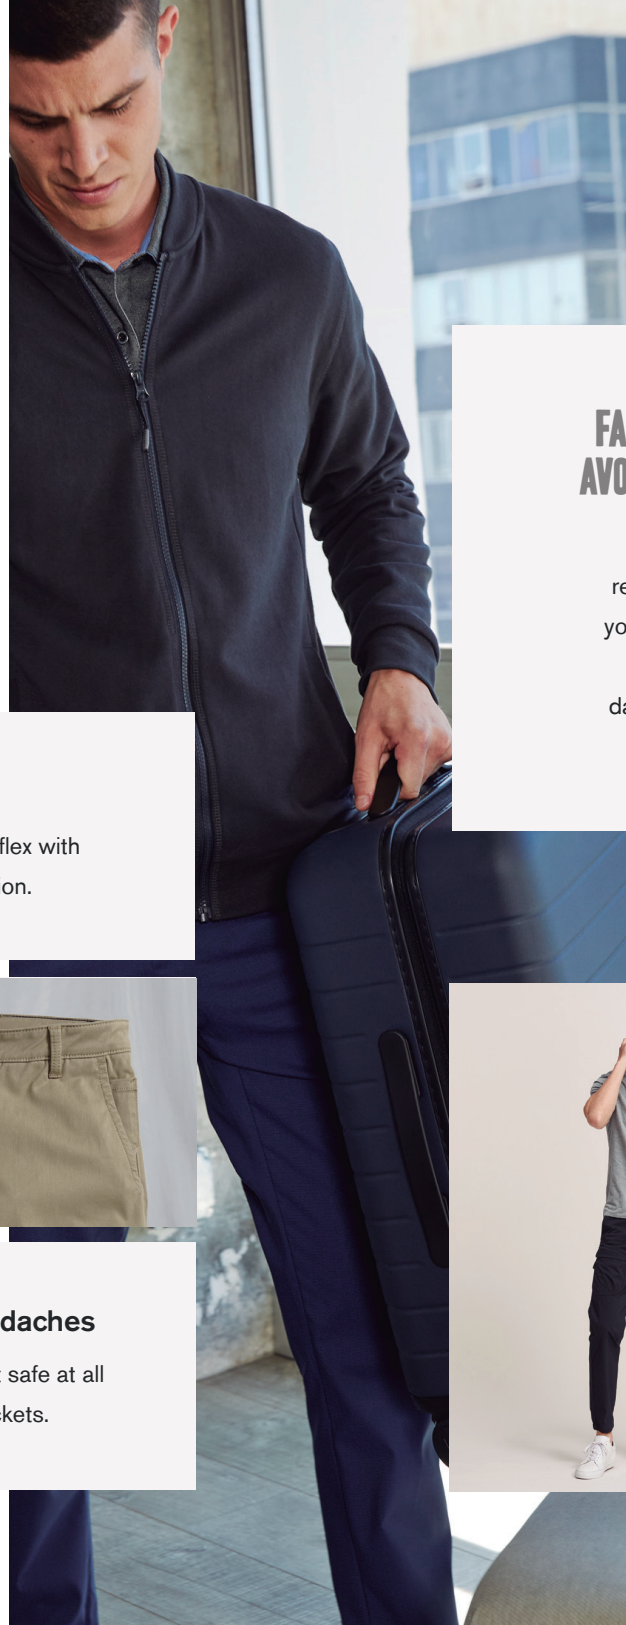

No belt, less hassle

A smart stretch waistband can provide better freedom of movement starting by the security checkpoint, no belt necessary!

Avoid unnecessary headaches

Keep your wallet and passport safe at all times with hidden security pockets.

THE MEETING

FASTEN YOUR BELT, AVOID TURBULENCES

As soon as you land ready to succeed make your confidence take off with a tucked-in shirt, dark creased pants and a matching color belt.

TIME TO RELAX

THE WARRIOR'S REST

A busy day is over and it's time to celebrate. Change the shirt for a smart polo or t-shirt, swap the shoes for a pair of sneakers and enjoy some well-deserved time off.

AFTERWORKS

FIGHTING THE UNDER/OVER -DRESSED SYNDROME

Successfully juggling between formal and casual attire can be stressful, especially when you need to do it on a single working day. You know, those days with a big presentation you need to dress up for that matches meeting the guys at the pub later in the evening. Or the other way around: days when you're in for a desk marathon to heading straight from the office to an award ceremony.

01 DRESS FOR THE UNEXPECTED

There's no need to go home to change your clothes. Transform your outfit with a few tricks here and there. As things come up without warning, be always ready to handle the situation.

02 GENIUS WORKS IN LAYERS

A sweater or blazer and a shirt with a tee underneath can be your swiss-army knife. Play the put-on, put-off, tuck-in, tuck-out game and you'll be set for the all-occasion roller coaster.

LIKE SUPERMAN IN A TELEPHONE BOOTH

Your work day is over and some improvised drinks at the pub come up? Just open up your shirt and let a casual print tee appear to save the day.

AFTERWORKS and events

THE ALL-TERRAIN SWEATER

A sweater is the ultimate versatile piece of clothing. Wear it over a tee for a more alternative and casual look or under a blazer to look more 'chic'.

REFINED WITH A SPARK OF CRAZY

Camel and dark colors are a safe bet for any formal event. Are you in for a big celebration? Go for red socks and spread some colorful joy.
